Scholastic Children's Dictionary Definition

Re-cy-cle (ree-sys-kuhl) verb

To process old items such as glass, plastic, newspapers, and aluminum cans so that they can be used to make new products

True or False?

1. The average person will read and throw away 27,500 newspapers and books, at the rate of 7 trees a year, in his or her lifetime.
2. The office paper we throw away every year could build a 12-foot wall from New York to Los Angeles.

You are correct if you answered TRUE to both statements. Believe it or not, we use a lot of paper and we read many books. Learn to recycle both paper and books.

Here's a tip – After you read a book, share it with a friend. Guess what? You just recycled a book. Thanks for not being wasteful.
